

Diagrams below showing how errors are propagated back into the network.

These and many information are available on the internet. BP is a very well known algorithm for NN training. You could find many information on the internet if you do some research.

